THE cable dispatches states that although the cholera rages in Madrid the people of that unhappy city give their attention to the enjoyment of the good things of life as usual the theaters and other pleasure resorts are filled, and save the dead carts, little is seen to remind the public of the pestilence. There is nothing remarkable about this. While great public calamities are commonly supposed to turn men's mind in a serious channel, the contrary is more generally the case. During the wort days of the French Revolution, when no man could be sure of his head during the next fully indestified as Wyatt Jones, the twenty-four hours' the theaters did a better business than for years It is probable that Sheriff Fant will and the same fact was noticed dur- hold him here for examination, fearing ing the siege of the same city by that he will be lynched by the people the Germans.

So impressed has vice-President Hendricks become with the skill of that automation checker-player that he is said to be contemplating the invention of an automation Higgins. He admires Higgins, but he does not see why a wax man should not wax offensive partisan fully as expeditiously and at less expense. The automaton headsman would do his work quietly and well. Offensive could simply be passed in review, Canton-fashion, and have their heads chopped off like a flash.

A YOUNG New York drummer was beaten by a Chicago man for attempting to "mash" the irate parent's daughter. If all fresh fellows who try to ogle fair maidens were of about $20,000. The shock of the ac treated to a cane tattoo mashing cident awakened the cighty or more would soon become a lost art.

THE shoulder of a sleeping-car porter on a Western train was dislocated during an accident the other night. His pocket must have been so heavily laden with silver than he could not extricate himself
